1. NGS updates

- a. National Height Modernization (Gallagher) – Thank you to all who participated and contributed to the 2014 HMod Partner Meeting. Nearly all presentations are uploaded and we are currently working on the final summary report: <http://www.ngs.noaa.gov/heightmod/PartnerMeeting2014.shtml>.
- b. International Great Lakes Datum 2020 (Conner) – Dave was recently appointed the NGS IGLD 2020 project lead; Dave Rigney is his back-up. The planning for GPS campaign survey in 2015 is underway. This upcoming year, NGS and CO-OPS will be partnering with Canadian partners to begin work. Sheena Beaverson added that there is an opportunity to have IL contractors support the effort, depending on the timing. Dave C will follow-up.
- c. Geoid Slope Validation Survey (Evjen) – Geoid Slope Validation Survey (GSVS) field work is now occurring in Iowa through late August.
- d. Hollings Scholars (Hensel) – Philippe introduced two NGS Hollings Scholars. Heather Nicholson is a Penn State Surveying and Engineering student completing a leveling project at the Smithsonian Environmental Research Center. Molly Cain, also from PSU, is completing a study comparing Surface Elevation Tables (SETs) to digital barcode leveling.

2. State Updates

- a. Illinois (Beaverson) – wrapping up leveling project along the Mississippi River and appreciate the extra work from NGS to get it completed, even as difficulties have arisen. Janet Holden has identified folks to participate in the Esri map gallery in July.

3. Guest Presentations

“The Canadian Geodetic Vertical Datum of 2013 (CGVD2013)”

Marc Véronneau, Canadian Geodetic Survey, Natural Resources Canada

Natural Resources Canada (NRCan) has released the Canadian Geodetic Vertical Datum of 2013 (CGVD2013), which is now the new reference standard for heights across Canada. This new height reference system is replacing the Canadian Geodetic Vertical Datum of 1928 (CGVD28), which was adopted officially by an Order in Council in 1935. This presentation will review the evolution of the CGVD28 network, highlight the technical advances that made possible the realization of CGVD2013 and summarize the differences users should expect when migrating to the new datum.

Marc Véronneau is the Team Leader of the Gravity and Height Systems Unit at the Canadian Geodetic Survey of Natural Resources Canada. He has been with the Government since 1988 where is focused primarily on vertical positioning, in particular on the development of geoid models and the release of the new vertical datum for Canada. Marc graduated from Université Laval in Quebec City where he received his BSc and MSc in Geodesy in 1986 and 1988, respectively.
